

Author Bios

Short: Malinda Fugate is a Children's Education Director and writer of faith resources for children and adults.

Medium: Malinda Fugate serves as the Children's Education Director at a church in Southern California. She attended Azusa Pacific University and worked behind the scenes in Los Angeles Christian radio. Her writing includes The Other Three Sixteens, Bible Time for Active Kids, copywriting, faith-based stage and screen plays, and co-producing A Single Girl's Guide To, blog and web series.

Long: Malinda Fugate grew up in children's ministry. Now, after two decades of dedicated volunteer service, she now serves full-time as the Children's Education Director at a church in Southern California. Malinda studied communications and theatre at Azusa Pacific University, then worked behind the scenes at the Los Angeles Salem radio stations, including The Fish and KKLA. Her writing includes The Other Three Sixteens, Bible Time for Active Kids, commercial copywriting, various faith-based stage and screen plays, as well as co-producing A Single Girl's Guide To, a lifestyle blog and web series. Her lifelong study of God's Word continues to reveal more about the Lord every day. She lives by the beach with her pup, Yoshi.

Media Bio

Malinda Fugate serves as the Children's Education Director at a Southern California church and writes for God's children of all ages. Her recent book, The Other Three Sixteens, explores the reality of God's love in our lives today. She also created a children's devotional, Bible Time for Active Kids, full of biblically-based activities to bring kids closer to the Lord. Her passion is connecting people with God in tangible ways.

5 Fun Facts You Didn't Know About Me

- Though originally from Ohio and Kentucky, I currently live on the beach in the L.A. area.
- I'm a pastor's kid.
- Besides writing and children's ministry, I also have a degree in film production.
- I have bipolar disorder, and God has taken me on quite a life journey.
- I've run multiple half marathons and organize our church's annual 6k to support Team World Vision's clean water projects.